Foodics

Azdan Case Study

Business Situation

Foodics experienced significant challenges including increased costs, operational inefficiencies, and delayed time-to-market. These issues stemmed from their reliance on manual processes, and data silos, resulting in higher expenses, difficulties in streamlining operations, and slower product launches.

Results

Azdan's assistance enabled Foodics to achieve significant business scalability and process optimization:

- By leveraging Azdan's solution, they experienced a notable reduction in costs and risks, leading to cost savings of 17%.
- The implementation of Azdan's solution allowed them to start operating faster, with a reduction in time-to-market by 20%.
